Meeting of the Minds: Ozomatli & Aquamantra Two SoCal-based Purveyors of Positive Thought and Energy Team Up at Orange County Fair

(Los Angeles, CA, Monday, July 17, 2006) -- Orange County-based natural spring water company, Aquamantra, teams up and supports Southern California's premiere Afro-Latin groove armada, Ozomatli, this week for all four of their performances at the Orange County Fair (Tues. – Friday).

Since 1995, three-time Grammy Award-winning Ozomatli (www.ozomatli.com) has played to audiences around the world with its ever evolving and incomparable blend of musical styles. They are not only master entertainers, but also pride themselves on their activism, positive message and making listeners stop and think about their role in society.

So when Alexandra Teklak introduced her revolutionary line of bottled water, that encourages consumers to “think, then drink”, it became obvious that Ozomatli and Aquamantra should inspire in union.

Teklak explains, “When I began thinking of organizations I wanted to approach for sponsorships, Ozomatli’s has always been my number one choice. Their performances are amazing and it would be an honor to partner with their mastery of music. This is the universe working its magic, bringing refreshment to Ozomatli while they stimulate our souls.

Inspired by the concepts brought to the forefront by the pop-culture hit “What The Bleep Do We Know,” Aquamantra’s mission is to encourage and remind the consumer that, “You are What You think and Now, You Are What You Drink.” By combining delicious natural spring water, Quantum Physics and positive affirmations with engaging packaging, each Aquamantra bottle becomes a tool to remind the consumer to think consciously about being “Healthy”, “Lucky” and/or “Loved.”
